

Reimagining the Employee Journey

Connecting People, Purpose, and Productivity Across the Employee Journey

Employee engagement is no longer a one-time initiative or an annual survey. It is a continuous journey that spans the full lifecycle of an employee's relationship with your organization, from first interaction to daily work experiences and long-term growth.

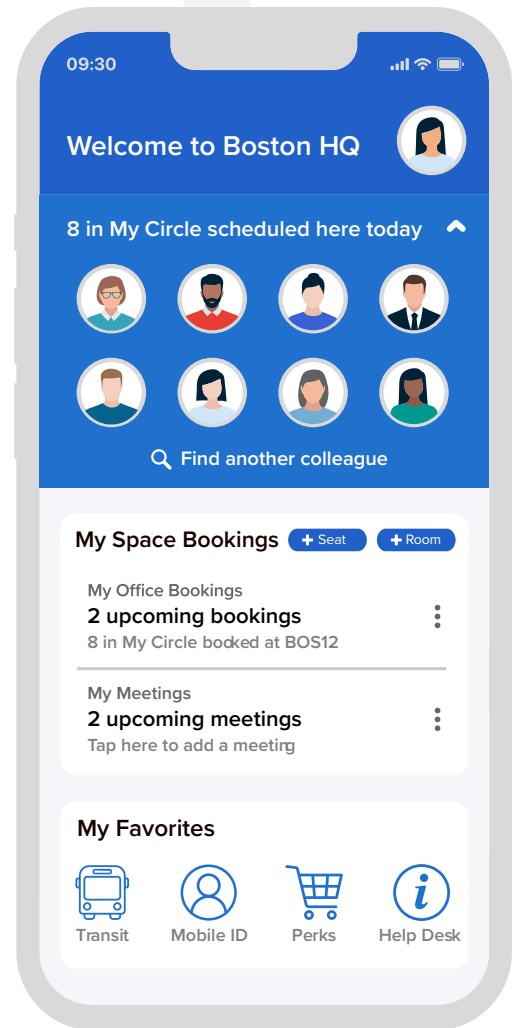

Today's workforce expects intuitive, personalized, and connected experiences that help them navigate work seamlessly. Every interaction—finding information, accessing tools, collaborating with colleagues—shapes engagement, productivity, and satisfaction.

A Unified Platform for Connection and Culture

At its core, employee engagement is about connection—connecting people to:

- The tools they need
- The information that matters
- The spaces they use
- The colleagues they collaborate with
- The purpose that drives them

Our Employee Engagement solution brings these elements together into a single, cohesive platform, eliminating silos and creating a seamless experience across every touchpoint.

Optimizing the Workplace Experience

As work becomes more flexible, organizations must rethink how they design and support both digital and physical environments.

Modo enables organizations to:

- Optimize space utilization through real usage and behavioral data
- Deliver the right resources, services, and information in context
- Support seamless hybrid work across locations, teams, and roles

Agentic, Embedded Workplace Experiences

Modo brings AI into the natural flow of work, enabling experiences that act, adapt, and respond in real time. Instead of requiring employees to search, switch systems, or navigate complexity, the platform surfaces what they need when they need it—guiding actions, streamlining tasks, and reducing friction across the workday.

Through proactive prompts, contextual nudges, and intelligent task execution, Modo delivers a more responsive and personalized workplace experience that evolves with each employee. These capabilities scale globally, enabling organizations to deliver consistent, secure, and continuously improving experiences across regions, roles, and systems.

Designed for the Moments That Matter

From onboarding to everyday work to major workplace changes, Modo supports the key moments that shape employee experience:

Get started faster with guided onboarding and access to essential resources

Navigate the workday with ease through centralized tools, information, and services

Stay connected and aligned with integrated communications and workflows

Grow and engage over time with personalized, role-based experiences
